

SMITH PITCHES BROOKLYN TO LEAD IN SERIES

1 MAN ASSESSOR PLAN IS ADOPTED BY COUNCIL

Part of General Charter Is Adopted to Provide for New System.

ARGUE BUS LINE PROBLEM

Mayor's Vote Gives Licenses to "Jitneys" Without "Maintenance" Fee.

Adoption of an ordinance providing for the election of one assessor instead of three and decision to lay the petition of the fire department for a two platoon system on the table until after the convention of the League of Wisconsin Municipalities, were the most important items of business transacted at an interesting meeting of the common council at the city hall Wednesday evening. Both decisions were reached in meetings of the "committee of the whole."

The vote of Mayor J. A. Hawes broke the tie on a vote to grant licenses to busline operators without charging compensation for use of the city streets. The vote was taken after a long discussion of the police and license committee recommendation that the permits be granted.

Adoption of the one assessor ordinance resulted from long agitation. Considerable dissatisfaction was found with the present system of electing three men and paying them such small salaries that they could devote but little time to the work. The ordinance committee, however, could not reach an agreement on whether the one assessor is to be elected or appointed and it was finally agreed to submit the entire matter to the council with the result that a part of the general charter, providing for the election of an assessor, was adopted.

There is a possibility that an effort will be made to hold a special election Nov. 2, the date of the general election, to name an assessor. The council will fix the salary.

It was reported after the meeting of the committee of the whole that the aldermen feel quite favorably toward the two platoon system for the fire department but want more information before taking final action. It is very probable the matter will be discussed by city authorities at a meeting in La Crosse next week, to be attended by the mayor, clerk, attorney and engineer. The petition was laid on the table until after that conference.

Aldermen McGill and Leach led the discussion which followed introduction of a recommendation to grant permits to bus line operators without charging a "street maintenance" fee for the present. McGill held that action to be unfair because the traction company, competing with the Neenah busline, was compelled to pay taxes and also to help maintain streets over which its trucks pass. The discussion centered almost entirely on the Neenah and Kaukauna lines, the New London route entering only incidentally.

It was clearly brought out that it is the temper of the council that while it sympathizes with the traction company in its effort to eliminate what is called "unfair" competition, it will not permit itself to be used as an instrument to drive the traction company out of the fire. Busline competition is a problem which the traction company must solve itself, the majority of aldermen held.

It was quite evident during the discussion that the city is almost powerless in the matter and it was urged that the state legislature be asked to enact legislation which will give either the city or the railroad rate commission more power to regulate buslines.

Aldermen voted as follows: To adopt the recommendation—Beske, Mayor, Murphy, Leach and McGinnis against adoption. Foster, Fosse, McGill, Lapp and Hanson, Mayor Hawes voted for adoption.

Charles S. Little was elected a member of the county board of supervisors from the first ward to succeed G. D. Thomas, who resigned because he had moved out of the ward. A. H. Meyer was elected to succeed himself as a member of the water commission.

The mayor's appointment of F. R. Young, Kimball street, and William Fountain, 54th street, as members of the library board, was confirmed.

Plans and specifications for a new engine house for No. 3 fire company, which was compelled to vacate its quarters several weeks ago, were adopted and the clerk was instructed to advertise for bids. No estimate of costs was announced.

A loan of $15,000 to the high school board from Oct. 4 to Feb. 1, was authorized. Bills amounting to $34,975.60 were ordered paid. Permission was granted the Northwestern railroad company to build a spur track across Durkee street to the Badger Furnace company plant. A demand of $20, representing damages to an automobile owned by A. O. Zehner, New London, was presented to the council and referred to the attorney. Zehner alleged he was mired on an Appleton street where sewer construction was in progress and his machine was damaged. A new wage scale for city street and bridge employees was adopted.

RUSSIA EAGER TO SIGN POLE PEACE TERMS

Armistice Negotiations Result in Notable Victory for Poland.

UKRAINIANS MENACE KIEFF

Fighting Continues Along Several Fronts Despite Agreement on Peace.

(By Webb Miller)

By United Press Leased Wire

London.—Poland has gained notable victories in a preliminary peace agreement with Russia.

The Poles gain another corridor, separating Russia and Lithuania, more territory to the east and a better transportation service. The armistice and preliminary peace agreement, effective Friday, provides for twenty-five days of peace with opportunity for automatic extension.

Meanwhile, fighting continued on all fronts with the Polish troops reporting further advances to the east.

A wireless dispatch from Moscow said the Russian troops continued their retreats according to plan.

In the Molodotchno, Minsk and Slutsk regions, we captured the staff of the first Don division," the wireless said.

"Three Don generals committed suicide."

A Berlin dispatch said it was reported there that General Maklakov, heretofore operating against the bolsheviks in the far southeast, had joined the Reds in fighting General Wrangel.

Kieff is Menaced

An unconfirmed dispatch to the Daily Express from Warsaw said the vanguard of the Ukrainian troops was nearing Kieff and that insurgent peasants were surrounding that city—a vital point for the soviets because of its rail connections. Polish troops, according to this report, were only 15 miles from Minsk. The Russo-Polish peace conference, having reached a preliminary agreement at Riga, ensuring negotiations probably will be carried on in London or Paris, according to reports here.

The armistice agreement provided definitely for twenty-five days of peace which might be broken on thirty-six hours notice. After twenty-five days, the armistice will be continued automatically subject to termination of ten days notice.

According to the Morning Post the agreement reached at Riga provided: Establish Neutral Zone

1.—Hostilities will cease within six days from the signing of the agreement.

2.—Both sides will withdraw to agreed limits within seven days after the armistice is effective.

3.—Military and civil stores and a certain amount of railway supplies need not be evacuated.

4.—A neutral zone of thirty kilometers will be established east of the armistice line, the Poles thereby retaining all their own territory.

Census Report To Show 14,000,000 Increase In Population of the U. S.

By United Press Leased Wire

Washington.—The census bureau announced the population of continental United States as 105,683,108 increase since 1910, 13,718,842, or 14.9 per cent.

Washington.—The result of the fourteen decennial census will be announced late today.

It was expected to show there are approximately 105,700,000 persons in continental United States or about fourteen million more than in 1910 when the last census was taken.

The population announcement today represents nine months work by 87,000 temporary enumerators and 3,000 permanent employees of the census bureau.

Along with the announcement of total population, the census bureau will make public a complete list of state populations. Only three states—Nevada, Mississippi and Vermont—have shown an actual decrease in population so far, and others to be announced were expected to show substantial increases.

Many states, however, failed to gain as fast as in previous decades.

The gain for the whole country was expected to be 15 per cent as compared with a gain of 20.9 per cent between the years of 1900 and 1910. Census officials said the drop in the percentage was due to the halting of immigration, decreased birth rate as a result of the war and the large death rate resulting from two serious epidemics of influenza.

The work of actually "counting noses" which is complete, is only a small part of the census work. The bureau must yet determine what per cent of the population is farmers, laborers, bookkeepers, elevator boys or corporation heads. It must determine how many chickens, sheep and cattle there are, how many people own the farms they work and how many rent them. Before long they will know how many bachelors, bachelor girls, widows and orphans there are, and just what per cent of the population they constitute.

The 1920 population of states already announced together with the 1910 population of all states and the District of Columbia follow:

State	1910	1920
Alabama	2,347,295	2,138,093
Arizona	333,273	204,254
Arkansas	(Unannounced)	1,574,449
California	3,426,536	2,377,549

COX PLANS TO KEEP PACT IN LIMELIGHT

Democrat Starts Invasion of "Solid South" With Speeches Today.

(By Herbert W. Walker.)

By United Press Leased Wire

Enroute from Columbus to Cincinnati last night, Cox conferred with Glenn E. Plumb, author of the Plumb plan for the operation of railroads.

Plumb said he visited the governor by request but declined to discuss his conference.

Cox has developed another cold during the last two days, which may interfere with his speaking.

12 KILLED IN GOTHAM HARBOR EXPLOSION

New York.—An explosion on the steamship Crow at a Brooklyn dock this afternoon was reported to have injured a number of persons.

First unconfirmed police reports said several were dead.

Every police ambulance in Brooklyn was rushed to the scene. More than 100 persons most of them shipyard employees were on the vessel an oil tanker, when the explosion occurred.

Police on the scene said there were 12 dead. Two bodies were recovered 2:45 p. m.

Many injured in the ship were threatened with suffocation.

Orders from Abroad

The Roupinne Manufacturing company has received its third order for Roupinne from the Philippine Islands. It was announced at a meeting of the directors this week. The company is mailing about 6,000 circular letters to a number of mid-west states. Among the directors in attendance was William F. Plummer of Manitowish.

NEAR BEER IS SAID TO BE TOO NEAR REAL STUFF

By United Press Leased Wire

Chicago.—Breweries making near beer which is said to be too nearly like real beer, is being considered by federal officials here who have gathered evidence from 200 saloons that beer with a kick in it is being sold.

Federal Prohibition Agent Thomas J. O'Brien, who has been making the investigation, said the brewers have been making beer and putting more alcohol into it than the law allows and that in addition they have evaded paying a federal tax of $12 per barrel.

The only way to stop the sale of real beer in Chicago is by preventing its manufacture," said O'Brien.

SPENCER ROWS PUT UP TO VOTERS

By United Press Leased Wire

Washington.—J. P. Tumulty, secretary to President Wilson, today said Senator Spencer of Missouri is invited to produce official records of the peace conference to support his charge that the president promised American military aid to Tumanians and Serbs in case they were again attacked.

"We have no stenographic reports of the proceedings," Tumulty said, adding that the only official stenographic report is in Paris.

The history of the controversy between the president and Spencer is now that the Missouri senator voiced the original charge, which was denied by Tumulty. Spencer expressed the belief the matter had not been called to President Wilson's attention. The president said it had and Spencer's charge was false. Spencer quoted from peace conference accounts and the president replied he was willing to let Missouri voters decide who was telling the truth.

White House officials declared the next move is up to Spencer and Senator Reed, who is reported to have backed his colleague.

SLAYER ESCAPES JAIL WITH CHILD

By United Press Leased Wire

Michigan City, Ind.—Posses today searched for John Vaughn, escaped convict, whose disappearance from the state prison here Monday night, simultaneously with the vanishing of Walter Young, 13, has caused widespread alarm.

Vaughn, sentenced to life imprisonment for the murder of a child, was known to be fond of the child and was often permitted to be with him.

The duo disappeared Monday night. Vaughn, who is 50, was a trusty at the prison and was well liked by authorities. When he didn't turn up, it was thought he had strayed away. But when he continued to remain away and the child was reported missing, posesses were formed and dispatched to various parts of this vicinity to conduct a search.

Prison officials regarded Vaughn as harmless. He was known to have a craving for children.

First reports were that a twelve year old girl had also disappeared with Vaughn but this was denied at her home.

LEN SMALL IS CALLED ILLINOIS NOMINEE

By United Press Leased Wire

Springfield, Ill.—"Chances of a split in the republican vote of Illinois was believed eliminated today by the action of state officials here yesterday in certifying Len Small of Kankakee, as the republican gubernatorial candidate.

By the certification of Small's candidacy, it is now believed that harmony will prevail in state republican ranks.

Leut. Governor Oglesby, whose candidacy was backed by Governor Lowden, can only prevent Small, whose chief supporters was Mayor William Hale Thompson, of Chicago, from being placed on the ballot as the party candidate by obtaining an injunction. He has ten days to do this.

Small's plurality was declared to be 3,902 votes.

A FREE PACKAGE OF POLITICAL BOOKLETS

For Every Reader of The Appleton Post-Crescent.

It contains the Keynote Speech, the Platform, and the Speech of Acceptance of both the Republican and Democratic Parties, and a comparison of the Constitution of the Soviet Government of Russia with the Constitution of the United States.

Every voter should be thoroughly posted on the issues of his own party, and it is equally important to know exactly what the other side stands for.

America is one country where the decision stands when it is made.

These little booklets are a complete library of political facts, published in a form convenient for keeping.

They are equally important to both men and women voters. They will be sent to any address without any charge except four cents in stamps for return postage.

Order them today. Use the coupon. (In filling out the coupon print name and address or be sure to write plainly.)

Frederic J. Haskin, Director, The Appleton Post-Crescent, Information Bureau, Washington, D. C.

I enclose herewith two cents in stamps for return postage on a free copy of the Political Booklets.

SPEED UP WORK ON W. & N. EXTENSION

Additional Steam Shovel Operates at Tunnel—Aim to Finish Nov. 15.

Work on the new extension of the Wisconsin and Northern railroad to Neenah has been speeded up by adding another steam shovel at the Appleton end. The company's aim is to have trains operating to Neenah by November, according to C. H. Hartley, general manager.

The tremendous task of tunneling under Spencer street and the Chicago and Northwestern tracks is nearing completion. One crew with steam shovels has reached the tracks at the south, and the added steam shovel will soon make this possible at the north. A large number of the concrete abutments are already in place along the proposed route, and the temporary track for the train cars taking dirt away from the steam shovel is laid well toward Neenah. Crews of men have been busy grading up the land in low spots, and deep gulches are being filled with the dirt from the tunnel excavations.

RECORD BREAKING AUTO SPENDS 2 DAYS IN CITY

The Essex automobile that broke the world's record for trans-continent tours, and one of its drivers, A. R. Winberg of Chicago, spent two days in Appleton this week, and attracted considerable attention.

The car was one of four that carried mail across the continent from New York to San Francisco in an attempt to establish a record. Two cars started from each city, carrying 500 pounds of mail. The trip was made by the fastest machine in four days, 14 hours and 43 minutes, covering a total of 3,347 miles.

Twenty drivers were used for the trip under relay arrangement. The cars were operated night and day in all kinds of weather. They carried four extra gasoline tanks, and had four powerful searchlights to illumine the way. The actual time was less than the air schedule, which averages about five days. Mr. Winberg made the trip from Chicago to Omaha in one of the machines.

APPLETON STOCK IN NATIONAL DAIRY SHOW

R. M. Harrison of the Wisconsin Live Stock association intends to send stock to the annual exhibit of the National Dairy association, to be held in the Coliseum at Chicago, October 7 to 16.

Twenty-five foreign nations are expected to send stock for exhibition, which will soon be the largest in the world, it is expected.

Mr. Harrison's exhibit will consist of pure bred Holstein-Friesian stock.

Mr. Sherman's subject will be "My Experiences in Europe and What I Saw." A second speaker, C. D. Townsley, assistant cashier of the Bank of Kaukauna, will deal with the subject "Banking Co-operation in Small Towns." A large number of officers and clerks of the Appleton banks plan to attend.

70 GIRLS SUBMIT TO PHYSICAL EXAMINATIONS

About seventy girls, in three groups, have been given physical examinations by the recreation department of the Woman's club. Drs. Ritchie and Reeve have conducted the examinations which consist of tests for weight, height, lungs, heart, feet, throat, posture, etc. Through these tests, some of the girls who had planned to take up basketball, learned that it wouldn't be wise for them because of some physical weakness, and substituted moderate gymnasium work. The last examination will be held promptly at 7 o'clock Friday evening in Dr. Ritchie's office.

LITERATURE AND HISTORY POPULAR

Monthly Library Report Shows Interest in Instructive Books.

Books on literature and history are more popular than any of the non-fiction works in the Free Public library, according to the September report of Miss Florence Day, librarian. About one-fourth of the population patronizes the library, the report indicates. Out of 4,354 books circulated in and children 30. History books for adults numbered 79 and juvenile 55. Biography came next with a total of 71 copies withdrawn by both classes. Useful arts publications to the number of 104 were called for. Sociology, travel and other subjects followed in order. Thirty-seven German books were circulated. The report showed that there were 2,897 adult patrons during the month and 1,457 juvenile. The report showed that 2,897 books were drawn by adults and 1,457 by children, or an average of 187 copies a day. Thirteen new books were added and eight withdrawn from circulation. The total number of books on the shelves is 14,401. A total of 5,421 readers' cards are on file to date. Current magazines to the number of 159 were also drawn during Sep-

CONGREGATIONAL WOMEN TO MEET HERE FRIDAY

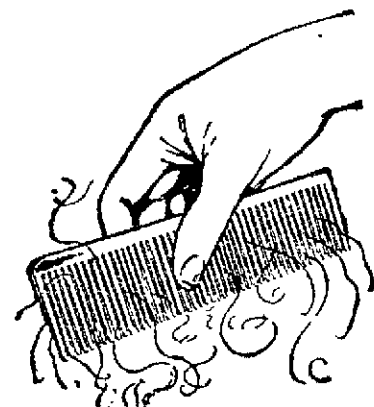

Ladies of First Congregational church will entertain the women of the Winnebago Association at a missionary rally, Oct. 8. Representatives from twenty-five churches have been invited. Each group will give a report of the work accomplished in its churches. Mrs. John Faville, Lake Mills, will speak for the Woman's Home Missionary Society and Mrs. George Peabody will speak for the foreign board of missions. The morning session will begin at 11 o'clock, followed by a basket lunch at 12:30 o'clock. All the ladies have been requested to bring enough sandwiches for two. The afternoon session will commence at two o'clock and close with a dramatic presentation by the young people of the church.

INVITE CITY DAD CONVENTION HERE

League of Wisconsin Municipalities Conference Invited to Appleton.

Appleton will invite Wisconsin city officials, attending the annual conference of the League of Wisconsin Municipalities at La Crosse, October 11 to 14, to hold their 1921 convention in this city. It was decided at a meeting of the common council at the city hall Wednesday evening. A resolution was adopted instructing the Appleton delegates to invite the next convention here.

Appleton will be represented by Mayor J. A. Hawes, City Attorney Theodore Berg, City Engineer Oscar Wengert and City Clerk E. L. Williams. The council voted to defray their expenses.

Mr. Williams told the council that the league held a convention in Appleton seventeen years ago. Alderman Mayer suggested that perhaps it would be a good thing to hold another meeting here and he followed this suggestion with a resolution instructing the delegates to invite the officials.

Mayor Hawes declared that every

C. K. OF W. BRANCHES COMPLETE MERGER SUNDAY

Celebration of the merger of branches Nos. 6 and 128 of the Catholic Knights of Wisconsin will take place Sunday, including initiation of 115 candidates. Members of both bodies and the candidates will approach holy communion at 7:30 o'clock in the morning at St. Joseph church. Initiation of the class is scheduled for 2 o'clock in the afternoon at Columbia hall. John M. Callahan, Milwaukee, state secretary of the order, and his degree team will put on the work.

The program will close with a banquet at St. Joseph hall at 5:30 o'clock. Several short addresses are to be given. The Appleton branch will be one of the largest in the state when the merger is complete.

Appleton people will be surprised how quickly simple witchhazel, camphor, hydrastis, etc., as mixed in Lavoptik eye wash, relieves bloodshot eyes and dark rings. One young lady who had eye trouble and very unsightly dark rings was relieved by a single week's use of Lavoptik. We guarantee a small bottle to help ANY CASE weak, strained or inflamed eyes. FOR PEACE OR WAR?

It is contended by those bent upon destroying it that the league of nations is an instrument of war rather than of peace. Let us present the question to William Howard Taft, former president of the United States and one of the greatest interpreters of legal and constitutional documents in the world. Mr. Taft says:

The covenant of Paris is essential to an effective treaty of peace to accomplish the purposes of the war for the purposes of the war were to defeat militarism, to make the world safe for democracy and to secure permanent peace.

The preamble to a constitution of any kind is an essential part of the instrument. The preamble to the constitution of the United States is employed very often to gather the intent and purpose of its framers. The preamble to the covenant of the league of nations is an important part of that document. It throws light on the question whether the league is an agency of war or an agency of peace. The preamble reads:

The High Contracting Parties,
In order to promote international cooperation and to achieve international peace and security:
by the acceptance of obligations not to resort to war;
by the prescription of open, just and honorable relations between nations;
by the firm establishment of the understandings of international law as the actual rule of conduct among governments; and by the maintenance of justice and a scrupulous respect for all treaty obligations in the dealings of organized peoples with one another, Agree to this covenant of the League of Nations.

It has been asserted by Mr. Harding and others that the United States would be forced to send troops to Europe to fight on the side of injustice, that its sovereign power would be relegated to a super-state which could do with its army and navy and resources what it pleased. The preamble to the covenant disproves this statement completely. It places the stamp of misrepresentation on most of the arguments raised against the league. Under the preamble alone full right is reserved to each member, which would of course apply to the United States, to withhold approval from any act of the council which it may consider unjust or not in strict keeping with the high purposes set out in the preamble. The entire purpose of the league is peaceful, and to insure peaceful relations and understandings in the future. To hold that it is provocative of war is to wilfully pervert its plain meaning and intent, and to distort its provisions out of all resemblance to their true purport and effect. The paramount importance of American participation in the league is well stated by Mr. Taft:

For the United States to withdraw would make a league of other nations nothing but a return to the system of alliances with a certain speedy recurrence of war, in which the United States would be as certainly involved as it was in this war.

The reason why bolshevism is running riot over Europe, the reason why numerous petty wars and the Polish-Russo war are in progress, the reason why the league is functioning only imperfectly, is because of the very facts set out by Mr. Taft. The power of the United States—its moral power alone—thrown into the scales of European difficulties, as it could be exercised through the league of nations, would have a most beneficial, reassuring and stabilizing effect upon the situation there. There is no argument as to this, and certainly the United States is interested in preserving the peace of Europe along with the peace of the world.

As to Great Britain's alleged excess of power under the league covenant, let us again quote Mr. Taft:

The suggestion that Great Britain will have any greater power than other member nations in shaping the policy of the league in really critical matters, when analyzed, will be seen to have no foundation whatever.

Practically all of the objection raised to the league is of this character—groundless or misleading. No super-state is set up. The sovereignty of no nation is vitally impaired. Every member is its own free agent in accepting or voting recommendations of the league. Nothing can be done except by unanimous consent, and there is no power to issue "orders" for the use of military forces. The constitution of the United States is in no wise affected; it remains supreme and the powers of congress are not abridged. The purpose of the league is essentially pacific, not in any sense belligerent.

MORGAN AND MCCOY

William J. Morgan, Republican nominee for attorney general, announces in a straightforward declaration that he will support Col. Robert B. McCoy for governor, and will take the stump to help elect him. In the primary campaign Mr. Morgan made his fight for the nomination almost entirely on the proposition that the Non-Partisan league was a menace to the people and government of Wisconsin. He went to great pains to ascertain the facts about the Non-Partisan league in North Dakota and presented most damaging evidence against it as a result of his investigations.

Mr. Morgan has given proof thus far of a disinterested and patriotic desire to serve Wisconsin rather than his personal advancement. He has courageously and openly attacked radicalism in all of his strongholds and devious channels. He has fully and completely severed the ties between La Follette and the Republican party so far as it lay in his power.

Mr. Morgan regards John J. Blaine as the nominee of the Non-Partisan league and of no other organization, and he supports this contention with incontrovertible logic. Blaine having, he submits, refused to accept or approve the Republican state platform, and having failed to indorse the Republican national ticket and platform, is no longer to be considered a Republican. Having also accepted the Non-Partisan league nomination and having declared that he stood upon its socialistic and revolutionary platform "with both feet" it is clear that Blaine belongs only to that body of radicals. Not only this, but Mr. Morgan has since demanded of Blaine that he make his choice between Townleyism of North Dakota and Minnesota and the Republican party of Wisconsin, and Blaine has made no reply. At the state convention he made his decision and he now affirms it—a decision which alienates him wholly from the Republican party.

Mr. Morgan is performing genuine service for the state of Wisconsin in holding to the issue of radicalism and Non-Partisan league dominion. That is the question involved in this election so far as state government is concerned, and it is the only question. We believe all thorough going Republicans will applaud the nominee for attorney general for the course he has taken, and that they will join with him in support of the candidacy of Col. McCoy. The issues involved in the gubernatorial election are of great and far-reaching importance to Wisconsin. Every good Republican can under the circumstances take off his coat and work for the election of Col. McCoy with the same earnestness that he works for the election of Senator Lenroot and the rest of the party ticket. It is the way to save Wisconsin from the most dangerous upheaval that has ever threatened it—from falling into the hands of radicals who would set it back ten years and leave their marks of injury upon it for years to come.

TODAY'S POEM

(By Edmund Vance Cooke)

FALL

Peaches and pumpkins and honey,
Pumpkins and pumpkins
Ripe for the fairs,
Yellow and mellow and sunny;
Beans and tomatoes,
Corn and potatoes,
All of them cheaper than money;
Apples and plums,
Grapes big as thumbs;
Soft, sifted sunshine poured over them all;
Hoy for the days of the Fall!

Mornings are mystic and tender,
Woods like bouquets
Brighten the days;
Earth is a waster and spender;
Purple and gold
Fold upon fold.
Deck her in riotous splendor,
Languorous laziness
Flavors the business;
Something within me responds to its call;
Hoy for the days of the Fall!

A DIRGE IN H MINOR

(Same Old Harp)

A hard-headed nose and throat specialist who had just removed a whale of an adenoid from a little patient dear to me observed that few of us realize how large a share of the general illnesses that physicians treat may be traced to common colds. Whereupon I picked up my preternaturally long ears and brayed: "You mean respiratory infections when you speak of colds, I suppose?" The specialist agreed that they are all bacterial infections, yet he dragged in the weather. "Damp, cold, dark days make people feel gloomy and depressed," he said. "That weakens their resistance in itself. Furthermore people do not go outdoors to get the sun and air so much on cold or damp days, and that tends to render them more susceptible to common colds."

"Respiratory infections," I amended. "These colds are respiratory infections, certainly," the specialist agreed, for I had summoned him in consultation on the case, hadn't I? — "but I think we must consider unfavorable weather conditions as predisposing causes," he sidestepped as we passed. The moral of this story is that obnoxious die hard. The specialist insisted on dragging in the weather and cold and dampness although he freely admitted and believed that resistance against the respiratory diseases is lowered only by avoiding the weather!

Ours is a noble profession, with a great deal more scientific accuracy than the farmer's papers and the innumerable short-cut or fad healers like to grant us. But on the catching cold question we cut a sorry figure, trying to advance and stand still at the same time.

Few people realize that such diseases as appendicitis, valvular heart disease, acute multiple arthritis (inflammatory rheumatism, rheumatic fever, articular rheumatism and meningitis) are commonly the complications or sequels of trifling ailments wrongly called "colds." Although colon bacillus infection from the intestinal tract itself is the most frequent cause of acute appendicitis, pneumococcus infection from the throat or nose is a close second—often the young person develops the appendicitis before the sore throat, tonsillitis or coryza is entirely over. When the versatile streptococcus happens to be the responsible germ, the alleged "cold" is more likely to prove nothing more than a mere local disturbance excited by the invading germs which soon reach the heart valves, joint cavities or brain cavity as the case may be. These so-called "simple colds" are a prolific source of work for specialists and surgeons as well as family doctors. A good many of us would like to close up shop and find other work if people did not adhere to the superstition that respiratory troubles are caused by cold, wet or exposure.

It will require some twenty years yet to teach any considerable share of the people that all alleged "colds" are infectious diseases communicated precisely in the same manner that diphtheria is communicated. When that truth becomes widely known, there is going to be a vast decline in the sickness and death rates which are at present maintained largely by preventable respiratory infections.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

For Dry Skin

Some time ago you gave a formula containing oil of sesame for dry skin and "rhiskin." I have heard several women praise it. Will you be good enough to print that formula again? W.

ANSWER—Five grains of powdered boron is to be rubbed up in a mortar with one ounce of sesame oil (also known as teel oil and benne oil) and kept at about blood heat for three hours over a water bath. Then it is to be cooled, and three drops of absolute alcohol added. A little may be rubbed up on the dry skin every day. Sesame oil is non-drying and does not become rancid as quickly as do most oils.

Cruel Stepmother

I am Betty's stepmother. She is 11. Her father thinks I am much too severe because I refuse to give her coffee three times a day and he avers that her weak stomach came from a cold she had when she was born. Betty is extremely restless in her sleep. Her father insists that she be permitted to visit the blood-and-thunder or dime-novel type of movies three nights a week, even in school time. This is a Macedonian cry. I wish you would give a whole column to the subject. (Mrs. E. C.)

ANSWER—In real life, stepmothers and mothers-in-law are a great disappointment in that they so seldom play the roles given them in the colored supplement. Betty should certainly have no coffee until she is at least sixteen years old, unless her father plans to make her a nervous, excitable, inefficient and unhealthy girl. The blood-and-thunder movies are infinitely more injurious to a child than the worst dime novels we ever had. If father insists on three shows a week for Betty, and at night at that, let Betty's harsh stepmother endeavor to steer her to some theatre where the influence is not so vicious.

Good Old Rhubarb

I was greatly surprised to note in a table of food analyses you published that cocoa, black tea, and spinach, all contain more oxalic acid than rhubarb. If that is true why are not such articles eliminated from the diet of persons with stomach trouble, as rhubarb is? (W. H. G.)

ANSWER—The analyses which I quoted in the article you refer to gave these figures: in rhubarb there is 2.4 grams of oxalic acid to the thousand grams of the food; in spinach, 3.2 grams oxalic acid to the thousand grams food; in black tea, 3.7 grams of tea leaves; in cocoa, 4.5 grams oxalic powder to the thousand grams of cocoa powder. Rhubarb is not necessarily eliminated from the diet of one with stomach trouble; indeed, it is often helpful in stomach trouble. That certain foods happen to have some oxalic acid is probably regrettable, to the theoretical food specialist or faddist. Rarely should one hesitate to eat such foods, however. It is up to your physician to determine whether you happen to be one of those rare cases of oxaluria—a disease state due to excess of oxalic acid in the urine and perhaps in the blood.

Presidential Campaigns

By Frederic J. Haskin

XV. The Garfield-Hancock Race of 1880

Washington, D. C.—The September election in Maine is one of the few ante-election "straws" still left from the old days. "Twice in the history of the country the 'hows from Maine' in September was portentous. In 1840 it accurately indicated that Harrison would sweep the country. In 1880, forty years later, it showed that the Republicans were in a terrible condition and in danger of being wiped off the earth. The Democrats became too confident, the Republicans put almost superhuman energy into the fight, and Garfield won by a very small majority. Even then it had not been for the treachery of Tannery Hall, the Republican fight would have been lost.

The campaign of 1880 stands out as the one presidential contest in which political manipulation and chicanery overshadowed everything else. Both Garfield and Hancock were nominated by shrewd manipulation in the face of the fact that the majority in each party preferred another man. Garfield faced what seemed certain defeat from knifing by great leaders in his own party. The Republican branch was closed by the making of many promises, most of which could not be fulfilled. In the Democratic party the leaders who were battling for "reform" were outwitted by the practical politicians, and the very same practical politicians committed party suicide in the closing days of the campaign.

The Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1880 was the scene of the greatest battle ever fought for a political nomination. General Grant, having returned from a triumphant tour around the world, was an active candidate for a third term. He had the support of hosts of the Republican voters and of the shouting masses. James G. Blaine was the favorite of the politicians and of a majority of the Republicans, who were not carried away by the glamor of Grant's military fame. Blaine was the most magnetic leader his party has had, and his following was a personal one.

A Poetic Politician

Opposed to Blaine was the able Roscoe Conkling, Senator from New York. Because he hated Blaine, rather than because he loved Grant, Conkling led the Grant forces in the convention. He placed Grant in nomination in the famous speech beginning:

"If you ask what state he hails from, Our sole reply shall be,
He comes from Appomattox,
And his famous apple tree."

But in the closing sentences of his speech he mortally offended Blaine supporters and they swore that Grant should be defeated, even if Blaine could not win. For days and days the battle raged, the Grant and Blaine forces holding firm, and each of a dozen other candidates hoping to be the lucky dark horse.

John Sherman of Ohio was a serious candidate, he thought, and his name had been placed in nomination by James A. Garfield. Garfield's speech was conciliatory and while he was speaking for Sherman there were responsive cries from the house for Garfield. At the beginning of the second week, on the thirty-sixth ballot, the Blaine column marched solidly to Garfield, the break having been made by Wisconsin. The Wisconsin delegation decided upon Garfield over William Windom by a margin of but one vote. Had Windom received that state he might have captured the nomination. When Garfield was nominated there were still 306 delegates voting for Grant. "The Immortal 306," they were called, and gold medals were struck for them in commemoration of the stand they made. It was the first effort to obtain a third term ever made by any man who had been President.

Conkling was furious over the nomination of Garfield, whom he did not least. He refused to select the vice-presidential candidate, but the convention named Chester A. Arthur.

THE QUESTION BOX

(Any reader can get the answer to any question by writing The Appleton Post-Crescent Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Editor, Washington, D. C. This offer applies strictly to information. The Bureau cannot give advice on legal, medical, and financial matters. It does not attempt to solve domestic troubles, nor to undertake exhaustive research on any subject. Write your question plainly and briefly. Give full name and address and enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. All replies are sent direct to the inquirer.)

Q. What kind of stamps are used for air service mail, and how can one send letters in this way? E. G.

A. The regulation postage stamps are used for air mail. The postage is two cents, and in order to be sure that a letter will travel in this fashion, it should be handled in at a post office window with such a request.

Q. Into how many languages has the Bible been translated? Are there any countries in which the Gospel has not been preached? G. T. W.

A. The latest report of the British Bible Society states that the Bible has been translated by the society into 450 different languages and dialects. The American Association also has compiled 150 translations. At the present time there are many parts of Tibet, India, China, Africa, and Australia where the Gospel has not yet been preached.

Q. What was the total number of War Risk Insurance policies issued during the war and the number that have lapsed through non-payment of premiums? E. S.

A. There are 4,640,049 policies in force, totaling $40,331,640,000. The Bureau of War Risk Insurance has not compiled figures showing how many policies have lapsed.

Q. On a recent visit to Washington, I noticed that the dome of the Capitol was painted white. I was under the impression that the same was gilded when I saw it about 12 years ago. If it has been changed, why was it done? N. B.

A. The dome of the Capitol has always been white. You probably confused it with the dome of the Congress.

Just because he was a friend of Conkling. We sometimes make Presidents so. General Grant was also chagrined, and for a time he and Conkling were agreed to knife the ticket and defeat Garfield. The balance between the two parties was then so even that any great leader sulking in the tent, on either side, meant defeat.

Republicans Got Together
But later in the campaign, after the news from Maine came in, peace was restored. The prospect of a complete overthrow of Republican power caused the party leaders to bury their factional differences. Conkling at last consented to call on Garfield. And, as a supreme sacrifice of personal feelings, Conkling persuaded General Grant to take the stump for the first time in his life to speak for Garfield. That stopped the incipient revolt which threatened irretrievable disaster to the party.

The Democratic convention met in June and in spite of the sentiment of nine-tenths of the Democrats of the country, and in spite of the protests of its wisest leaders, it nominated General Winfield Scott Hancock, for President. It was not that the Democrats did not like Hancock, for he was very popular and had been mentioned as a candidate for President in every convention since the war.

But the Democrats, and many of the Independents, too, wanted Samuel J. Tilden renominated. "Give us the old ticket!" they cried. "Let us fight it out with the Fraud of '77 for our issue!" Although Hayes had made a good President, although his administration had restored peace in the country and although specie payments had been resumed and a dollar was once more a dollar, there were none so poor as to do Hayes honor. He had not pleased his own party politicians, and the Democrats hated him because they believed he was President by grace of fraud.

Tammany Beat Tilden
Tammany Hall hated Tilden, and Tammany Hall told the Democrats at Cincinnati that they would knife him. It was a convention of politicians, and they listened to Tammany. But they neglected to extract a promise from Tammany that any other candidate would not be knifed. So Tilden was turned down, the Democrats forfeited their right to raise the issue of the "Fraud of '77," and Hancock was named, with William H. English of Indiana as running mate.

The campaign was a fiercely contested one, and the Democrats were almost certain of victory until the very last. The Republicans were fearful, but Garfield was a very ambitious man and he did not intend to be defeated if human agencies could prevent it. Garfield was a skilled politician with long service in the House of Representatives behind him. He avoided every pitfall and conducted a masterly campaign, bringing to his support men who hated him.

General Hancock, on the other hand, was not so skilled. Undoubtedly, General Hancock's famous statement "the tariff is a local issue," had much to do with his defeat. The tariff issue was a very vital one then, and Hancock's contention lost him many votes among that element which later came to be known as "mugwump." Notwithstanding direct attacks upon Garfield's integrity, and insinuations against Hancock, the campaign exhibited less of vituperation and personal abuse than had been the rule for years. The Republican orators still made much of the "blood shirt," but they were unable to frighten even themselves into the frenzy of the preceding campaigns when the presence of a "Rebel brigadier" in Congress portended the establishment of Jeff Davis in the White House.

The whole election turned on New York. The South had become the "solid south" for the first time in its history, for it was never solidly Democratic before the war, and the doubtful states were New York, Indiana, Connecticut and California. New York's vote decided the election in favor of Garfield, who also had a popular majority in the whole country of about 7,000 votes.

Our Ad-Man

is a great hand

at turning things up side down.

Yesterday while dabbling in politics he spelled the word "WETS" backwards—and got "STEW".

Today we are wondering whether he means Oyster or otherwise.

Leaving all jokes aside—the habit of looking at all sides of a proposition is a good one to cultivate.

When you consider that the self same quality we are offering in Hirsh-Wickwire suits at $50 and $65 is being sold on all sides for from $5 to $10 more per suit—it brings home the truth that it pays a man to look well before he leaps.

ONE of the prettiest weddings of the autumn season was solemnized at eight o'clock Wednesday evening at All Saints church when Miss Frances Pratt, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George Pratt became the bride of Kenneth Dickinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Dickinson.

The bride was charming in a gown of point lace with silver threads, and veil caught with orange blossoms. She carried a bridal shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and roses. She marched up the aisle on her father's arm to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Arthur H. Arnocke of Milwaukee.

Mrs. John Benson, Chicago, a sister of the bride, was the matron of honor and wore a dress blue baronette satin and a lace hat. She carried a colonial bouquet. Mrs. Benson was unaccompanied up the aisle.

The bridesmaids were the Misses Ruth Dickinson, sister of the groom, who wore a blue tulle dress and a white hat, and Virginia Pratt, sister of the bride, who wore a pink tulle dress and a white hat. Both carried flower bouquets.

The bride was preceded up the aisle by her twelve year old sister, Margaret Pratt, who was the flower bearer in a dress of orchid tulle and a lace hat.

WANTED: SALESLADIES at once. Experience in selling ladies' coats and suits required. Good salary and steady employment to the right person. State previous experience, giving full references. Address H. J. G. Care of Post-Crescent

Jean Pratt, six year old sister, who wore a yellow tulle dress and carried a bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaids were the Misses Ruth Dickinson and Virginia Pratt.

The church was beautifully decorated with yellow chrysanthemums, autumn leaves and potted ferns. Following the ceremony at the church, which was witnessed by several hundred guests, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on College avenue for about 250 relatives and friends.

Among the out of town guests were Mrs. E. S. Pratt, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Baker, Lake Forest, Mrs. W. S. Marx, Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Marx, Hot Springs, Ark.

Mr. and Mrs. Dickinson left on an extended auto trip through the east.

Shiloh Wedding
A pretty wedding took place at Shiloh Tuesday morning at the Evangelical Lutheran church, when Miss Mamie Puls, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Puls, became the bride of Archie E. Burch of Black Creek.

The bride was attired in a white georgette dress over satin chamoisee and carried a bouquet of white asters. Elmer Puls, brother of the bride, attended the groom. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. M. Hensel.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where the young couple will reside on a farm near Black Creek, which the groom had provided.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Emil Springstroh and family of Appleton and Mr. and Mrs. George Emrich of Black Creek.

SUCCESS OF A MEDICINE
All things succeed which fill a real need; that a doctor is kept busy day and night proves his ability and skill; that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is sold in enormous quantities in almost every city, town and hamlet in America, and in foreign countries as well proves its merit, and women are found everywhere who tell of health restored by its use. adv.

TENANT FARMERS HELD LAX IN CARE OF LAND

Madison—The division of markets following up its investigation of the cost of living, points out that any thing which lessens the quality of farming is bound to show its effect on the quantity and quality of farm products.

The division considers that one of the factors which is detrimental to the amount and quality of agricultural production is tenancy. A tenant occupies a farm—whether large or small in extent—only for a time. He is not greatly interested in keeping up the fertility of the soil and the quality of improvements and buildings. Tenancy is also detrimental to the social relations of a rural community.

The division is of the opinion that it is necessary either to eliminate tenancy entirely or to reduce it to the minimum. Unless the state provides facilities to acquire farms, tenancy will grow with the increasing prices of land, the soil will become more and more depleted, agricultural production will suffer, both in quality and quantity.

ARREST 22 IN ONE DAY FOR GAME VIOLATIONS

Madison—Twenty-two persons were arrested on Sunday for violating the provisions of the game laws according to the conservation commission. All were arrested at Mud Lake, near Madison, which is technically open water though it is stagnant and covered with short weeds.

"We have less trouble with violations of the game laws this year than any year before to my knowledge," said W. E. Barber of the conservation commission. "We did not have a single arrest on the opening day of the season as compared to sixty arrests on that day last year."

"Reports from all parts of the state are that the hunting is good and with the last spell of cold weather the ducks will soon commence their southern flight."

and Mrs. Henry Mills, Mrs. Roscoe Mills and daughter visited relatives in Fond du Lac, Sunday.

John Culbertson suffered an injury to his knee when he fell from a tractor at his home Saturday. It was necessary to take several stitches to close the wound.

KIMBERLY PROUD OF ITS NEW BANK

Hundreds of People Go Through Building When It Opened on Monday.

(Special to Post-Crescent)

Kimberly—The hopes of the Kimberly people were realized when the new bank opened its doors for business Monday, Oct. 4. They had been patiently awaiting this day for some time and were eager to see who would be the first to open an account. I. C. Clark, cashier, and Robert Ebbens, of the First National Bank of Appleton, who assisted him, were kept busy waiting on the numerous depositors as they came in during the day.

From 7:30 until 9 o'clock that evening, the building was opened to the public for inspection. Punch, wafers and cigars were served. Miss Mary Guschewich had charge of the punch bowl, assisted by Mrs. John Lemmers, Geraldine Sarasin and Mrs. Walch. The building was very prettily decorated with ferns and palms and beautiful bouquets from the Kimberly-Clark Co. and the First National Bank of Appleton. The Kimberly band was out in honor of the occasion.

The people of Kimberly were not the only ones interested in their new bank. Many from other places came to extend the glad hand to the new institution, as well as to compliment the people of the village on their modern banking house. The First National Bank of Appleton, where Mr. Clark and Miss Sturvenberg, his assistant, have been employed up to this time, was well represented. Both officers and employees came to wish success to the new bank.

Among others from out of town were F. E. Sensesbrenner of Neenah; Harry De Wolf, cashier, R. J. Pleweger, assistant cashier, and Frank Frankra of the Bank of Menasha.

Fill Silo.

(Special to Post-Crescent)

Isaac and Mrs. Robert Rohm and family of Appleton were guests at the home of Frank Snell Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Flanagan spent Sunday with relatives at Appleton.

Many people witnessed the burning of Antoine Van der Valden's barn and granary on Saturday. The fire was caused by sparks which flew from the chimney and caught fire to the straw stack. One of his cattle, which was in the barn and unable to get out, was also burned. Much of Mr. Van der Valden's machinery was also destroyed.

Mr. Van der Valden was not at home when the fire occurred. He was filling silo at a neighbor's.

August Halem of Green Bay was a business caller here on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Hansen and family were callers at Anston Sunday.

Mrs. Raymond Flanagan and children returned home after visiting relatives and friends at Freedom.

A birthday party was held at the home of John Kroner Sunday in honor of Lawrence and Florence Kroner, it being their eleventh birthday anniversary. Dinner was served at 5 o'clock.

The Rev. Father Grossnick and Runklemon of Oconto Falls were guests of the Rev. Father Husslein the past week.

The approaching marriage of Miss Elsie Sigl to John Wheeler of Pulaski has been announced.

Henry Powless of Milwaukee was a caller here Monday.

John Bilmeyer of Waukesha was a guest of Father Husslein the past week.

It Isn't Work That Wears You Out

Hard work never killed anybody. But hard work, with irregular hours, neglect of rest, recreation and exercise does weaken the kidneys and keeps one tired, miserable and half sick. If your back aches—if you have headaches, dizziness and urinary disorders—don't wait. Get back to simple, sensible habits. Help the weakened kidneys before dropsy, gravel or Bright's disease attacks you. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. They have helped thousands and are used the world over. Ask your neighbor.

Appleton Experience

Emil Baerwald, retired farmer, 952 Lawrence St., says: "I had an awful backache, which got so bad that when I stooped over, I couldn't straighten up. Sharp pains caught me like the thrust of a knife. My kidneys didn't act right. My back was lame and stiff mornings, too. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and used two boxes, which removed the backache and other troubles."

The Fond du Lac County Farm Bureau association is at the head of the work.

STUDENTS TO HAVE NEW MACHINE SHOP

Crowded Conditions at State University Make New Building Necessary.

Madison—More than 600 men students are working in the machine shops of the University of Wisconsin College of Engineering this fall. Because of the crowded condition resulting from this large enrollment, the college is eagerly awaiting the completion of the new shop buildings that have been provided and are being erected at Camp Randall and the proper installation of the new machines.

WANTED: SALESLADIES
at ladies' hats and suits required. Good salary and steady employment to the right person. State previous experience, giving full particulars. Address H. J. G.

which are now temporarily installed in the old shops.

Of these 600 students who are learning various branches of machine shop work, 330 are first year students, 155 are sophomores, 40 are juniors, and 25 are seniors.

Five women students are working in the shops as members of the class in auto mechanics.

In February, the major portion of this shop work will be moved to the new modern shop buildings and equipped with many new machines.

ELECTRIC WASHER

IN a tub of sudsy water the soiled things are lifted, dipped, squeezed and rinsed, by some electric washers. Other electric washers rock the washable fabrics to and fro, tossing them back and forth with the sudsy water to loosen the dirt.

Each type has its advocates.

But the A-B-C Super-Electric combines the two methods! This individual feature of continuously alternating the two best ways of washing clothes, giving you the advantages of both in one washer, ends discussion as to which is preferable. Both are effective. In the A-B-C Super-Electric you get both!

And you get this by means of a mechanism that is noted afar for its sturdy simplicity. The outward evidence is the lack of jar, shaking, racking and noise when it is washing.

WINS BRIDE BUT PAYS WITH LIFE

Husband of Three Weeks Is Slain by Man Whom He Robbed of Girl.

New York.—Thomas McGrohan, 28, gunman and gangster, paid with his life of Sunday for having "copped" a pal's sweetheart. Joseph Burns, who was best man at the wedding, was also wounded.

The immaculately dressed body of McGrohan was found hanging limply against a fence at West Broadway and Park place. A bullet had bored thru his left shoulder and torn out the heart of the man before he could draw his own automatic from the holster in his left armpit. Still under his left arm, where it had been stopped by the assassin's bullet, the right hand of "Little Mac" had stiffened about the pistol.

According to the story told the police by a man they refuse to name, the dead man was popular with women. He met a rival gangster several years ago. The rival had a "steady." McGrohan boasted she soon would be his girl. She fell in love with "Little Mac," and three weeks ago they were married. By all the oaths known to gunmen the disappointed lover swore to get "Little Mac."

The first opportunity came early Sunday morning. McGrohan and his bride were stepping into an automobile uptown. They were seen by members of the rival gang. An automobile followed and when "Little Mac" stepped from the machine in West Broadway a bullet winged its way toward his heart.

A man describing himself as Joseph Burns of Brooklyn, believed to have been a pal of the slain gangster, is being detained in the Broad street hospital by the police until he gives a full story of how he received bullet wounds, for which he was treated at the hospital. According to the police, Burns admitted he was with McGrohan, but says he does not know how his friends was shot. Detectives have started on the trail of the rival gangsters and the missing bride of McGrohan.

TWO PRINCESSES PLAN TO RE-MARRY

Rumors in Berlin That Two Members of Royal Household Are to Wed.

(Special to Post-Crescent)

Berlin.—Two Hohenzollern princesses are re-adjusting their matrimonial affairs, according to rumors here.

Princess Marie, widow of Prince Joachim of Prussia, who shot himself in July, is now engaged to Herr Guerd, rich German factory owner. He recently divorced his wife, who was a singer.

Princess Catherine, in her book "The Disillusions of a Crown Princess," tells for the first time what she says are the real facts behind the persistent rumor of an American in love with the ex-crown princess, Cecile, of Germany.

The American, says Princess Catherine, first met the crown princess at Cairo and in the shadows of the Sphinx held her hand and even kissed it. The crown princess was having much trouble with the crown prince then and the American offered sympathy.

She received an unsigned typewritten letter telling her it was best, "in memory of the Sphinx" for her to return to Berlin. She carried the letter in a silk bag around her neck. The prince found it, tore it up and beat her with a riding whip until the servants hauled him off.

The American called on her during the revolution, declares Princess Catherine, and induced her to start divorce proceedings against the prince. She sobbed out her troubles in the American's arms and promised to marry him when she was free, says Princess Catherine.

BASEBALL INDICTMENTS AWAIT WORLD SERIES

By United Press Leased Wire

Chicago.—Further indictments of baseball players and gamblers by the Cook county grand jury investigating baseball crookedness today awaited the playing of the world's series.

Numerous witnesses expected to furnish valuable information against at least two National league players active in their inter-league classic and rather than interfere with the event the jury decided to rest until these players are free to appear.

Additional indictments were believed to be ready when the session reopened.

Owners of several major league clubs in conference here have been preparing for a complete re-organization of baseball.

TUNNEL NETWORK UNDER CHICAGO

Sixty-five Miles of Underground
Streets in Windy
City.

Chicago.—The "busiest corner in the world" is at State and Madison-sts.—say Chicago native sons.

It doesn't look like it—if you go 45 feet underground.

There, at intersecting tunnels, are signs on the walls showing that it's State and Madison. Not a bit of traffic, though—except an occasional train of cinders, earth from a building excavation or supplies for a hotel.

You can travel 65 miles in a network of tubes forming the Chicago tunnel system. Few Chicagoans know the tunnels exist, though engineers compare them to the Panama canal as an engineering feat.

Narrow-gauge railroad tracks carry freight trains that do the work of many thousands of horse teams and motor trucks daily, relieving traffic on the crowded streets above.

Turtles in Tunnels

When a new building is erected there are no long lines of wagons carrying earth and lying up traffic. A connection from the site is made with the tunnel system and the underground trains silently cart away everything from the excavation. It is carried to the lake front. The huge site of the new Field Museum was made by this sort of fill-in.

Ashes, cinders, waste and coal are carried in the freight subway.

Also supplies to hotels. Which accounts for a number of turtles that live in the tunnels—turtles that fell off the train on the way to some hotel kitchen.

"Train crows always stop when they see a turtle on the tracks," said H. L. Creutz, superintendent of transportation. "They think it's bad luck to run over a turtle."

The world output of silk amounts to about 700 tons a day.

FLOUR PRICES ARE NEARING NORMAL

Heavy Wheat Crops and General Price Reduction Is Having Effect.

Flour prices are coming back to earth at a gratifying rate. Three and perhaps four factors are responsible for this, including international competition, the bumper crops and the general attempt to reduce commodity prices, according to Miss Marie Ziegenhagen, manager of Willy and company. Other prices in the grain and corn realm are reaching what is considered the price level of 1917.

Flour dropped 60 cents a barrel Monday, and has come down 90 cents in all since October 1. It is also at its lowest price level for some time. The peak of the flour market was anywhere from $16 to $20 at one time, but there has been a gradual readjustment until the market now stands $13.40 a barrel.

Miss Ziegenhagen said that the Canadian wheat crop is the second largest in history, and that it is being shipped to the United States by boat and rail and sold at lower prices than what our own markets offer. It is a good quality of wheat, and is taken up by United States buyers. None has come in to Appleton, although it has been offered local dealers. There is no tariff charge on Canadian wheat exported to this country.

The export business to England has been practically shut off also, because the freight rate aboard the ocean freight steamers is so high that American wheat cannot compete with the English crop. Millers all over the country have been asked to petition their senators and congressmen to have the rates lowered, so the export trade in wheat can be resumed. Other European nations are fast getting back to production, and even Germany asks importations of rye only.

These conditions, the bumper crops in the United States and the general

MILLET BRAN HELD TO BE POOR STOCK FOOD

(Special to Post-Crescent)

Madison.—The state department of agriculture has issued a warning to farmers concerning the low nutritive value of a new stock feed that is now on the market.

Millet bran, the offal obtained in the manufacture of millet flour, has low value as a feedstuff, according to W. H. Strowd, head of the feed inspection division of the state department of agriculture. This product has recently been found for the first time on the Wisconsin markets.

An analysis in the feed inspection laboratory of the department showed that it had about the same composition as oat hulls and, therefore, the feed belongs in the class with roughage, such as hays, and straws and not with concentrates, such as middlings. Since the product looks very much like wheat middlings farmers are cautioned against the purchase of feed without a label giving the analysis.

ROADHOUSE BURNS ON EVE OF OWNER'S TRIAL

Marinette.—The roadhouse of Ted Laduke, just outside the city limits, burned to the ground early Tuesday morning on the eve of the proprietor's trial in Circuit court on charges of selling intoxicating liquors. Everything was totally destroyed. A valuable bulldog perished in the flames. The loss is estimated at $2,000.

Brush and marsh fires in this vicinity are abating. The high winds of Monday have subsided and fire is practically extinguished with occasional bursts of flame in different sections of the city's outskirts.

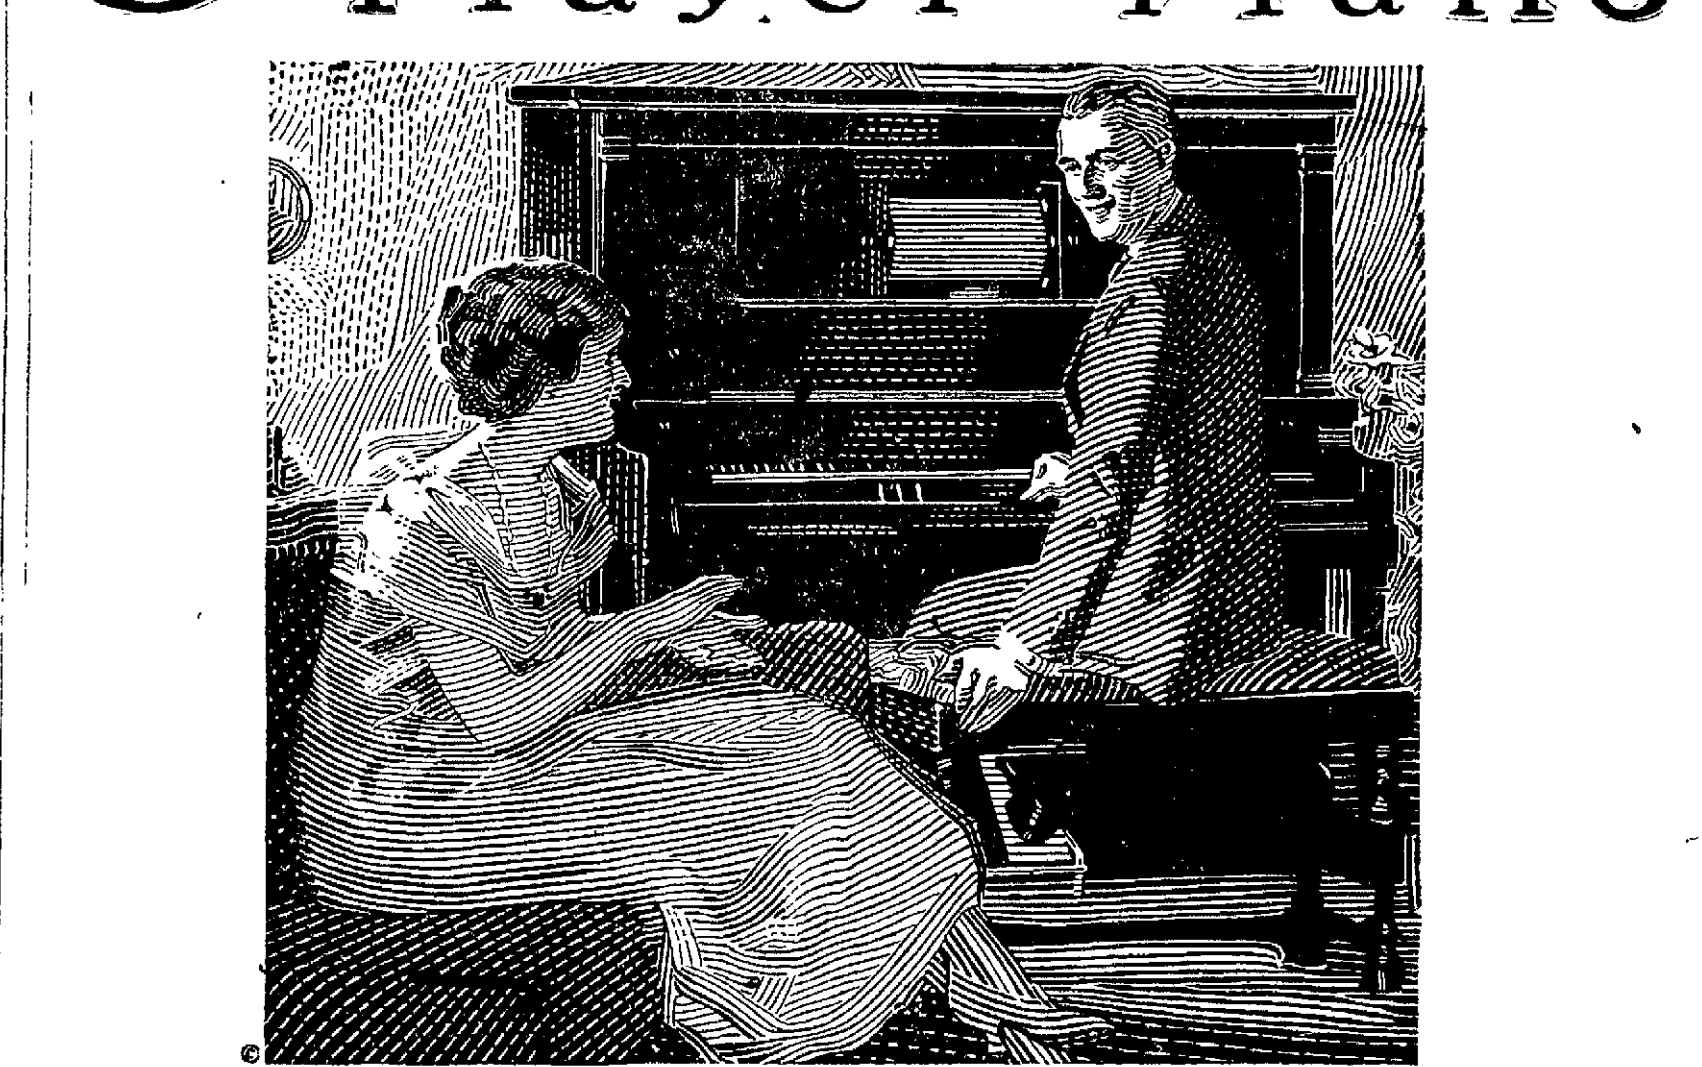

STORE SPUDS TO BRING SPRING PRICES DOWN

(Special to Post-Crescent)

Madison.—That potatoes will be fairly cheap this fall causing farmers to store large quantities until spring when the market will be flooded, and lowering the price of seed potatoes in the spring, is the prediction made by farmers writing from the northern part of the state.

It is predicted that millions of bushels of potatoes will be stored this fall because of the large supply and low price. These, it is said, will be held until they can be shipped in box cars next spring without the danger of freezing, and that the market will then be flooded, seed potatoes will be sold cheap and, it is predicted, the acreage planted next year, as a consequence will be greatly reduced, again forcing the price up.

GULBRANSEN Player-Piano

The Gulbransen Reads the Music and Strikes the Notes While You Put In the Expression—Fast, Slow, Loud, Soft

THE Gulbransen Player-Piano is a musical instrument which you may play well or play poorly. It is easy to play well; but playing it well requires some study and practice—about as much as learning to drive a car.

We emphasize this to encourage better playing. The Gulbransen can be played as artistically by roll as by hand. Thousands of owners play delightfully. Some, like John Martin, are such masters of "pedal-touch" and accent that they play with all the exquisite shading and phrasing of concert pianists.

A really brilliant ability on the Gulbransen is easily acquired if you have a "feeling" for music—the "feeling" which gives you a thrill from the military band on parade or a lump in your throat from a song filled with pathos. And this easily acquired ability is a never ending source of comfort and delight to you and all who know you.

Easy to Play

Have you ever tried a Gulbransen? It will astonish you by its easy playing. Look up the Gulbransen Dealer near you, named below. You have probably noticed the "Baby at the Pedals"—actually playing the Gulbransen—in his window. Write us for our free book, "Good Times with Your Gulbransen." Tells about the many kinds of music you can play and the fun you can have.

Nationally Priced

Three models, all playable by hand or by roll, sold at the same prices to everybody, everywhere in the U. S., freight and war tax paid. Price branded in the back of each instrument at the factory.

Mazola—the choice of leading hotels, clubs, and railroad dining cars in America!

WOMEN everywhere are finding out that lard is one of the most unsatisfactory of all cooking fats. It is absorbed into the food, making it heavy, soggy and indigestible at times. So much lard is taken up by the food during cooking that it becomes more expensive to use.

Mazola is 100% pure vegetable oil. It never penetrates into the food, but sears fish or meat over, and preserves all the good flavors. At the same time, it makes the food more digestible.

You too, should use Mazola for all cooking, baking, frying and sautéing purposes.

Thousands of people everywhere use Mazola as a delicious salad dressing, in preference to olive oil or any other vegetable oil. It costs about half what an acceptable grade of olive oil would cost.

BROWN RETIRES FROM POSTOFFICE

Is Second Mail Carrier to Take Advantage of New Pension Law.

The second veteran mail carrier to retire from the Appleton postoffice force under the newly enacted civil service pension act is John Brown. Notice came from the department at Washington on Wednesday that he had been placed on the pension list to receive the maximum allowance of $60 a month.

Brown leaves the employ of the postoffice after almost 32 years of continuous service. He joined the carrier force July 1, 1888, at a salary of $600 a year, six months after carrier delivery had been inaugurated in Appleton. He secured leave of absence several months ago because of physical disability incident to his long service, and has since been at Milwaukee for an extended visit.

Brown carried the fourth ward route long and faithfully, first on foot and later as a mounted carrier, on the authorization of the postoffice department. He was transferred to the fifth ward about three years ago, where he enjoyed a somewhat easier route because of his age. He was known to his patrons as a dependable and congenial man, and very accommodating. He has long been a member of the Knights of Columbus and the Catholic Order of Foresters, and is a trustee of the latter.

COL. WATROUS SPENDS A FEW HOURS IN CITY

Col. and Mrs. J. A. Watrous of Waupaca spent a few hours in Appleton Wednesday. Col. Watrous, who is one of the best known Civil war veterans in the state, is now commandant of Wisconsin Veterans' home at Waupaca. The colonel was formerly an Appleton newspaper man.

"I did press work on an old hand press for the first issue of the Motor, later the Post," Col. Watrous said on Wednesday. "From 1859 to 1861 I was with the Crescent as a printer. Since that time I have had a good deal of journalistic experience, but Appleton has always had a warm place in my heart."

Ex-King Miguel's widow, who reigned six years over Portugal, became a Benedictine nun some twenty years ago.

SEEK HOME AGENT FOR THIS COUNTY

Home Economics Department of Woman's Club to Appeal to County Board.

A committee was appointed at the meeting of the home economics department of the Woman's Club, for the purpose of looking into the matter of securing a county demonstration agent for Outagamie county.

Mrs. S. C. Rosebush read a report concerning the work of the county demonstration agents which she received at the state federation meeting at Superior. Money was appropriated in 1914 by the government for home demonstration and agriculture agents. There were 1,500 home demonstration agents during the war, but the number has dwindled to less than 200 now. The purpose of the agents is to help the women solve home problems. They are trained in home economics and are to help take the drudgery out of farm work for the women. The agents help in labor and time saving, canning, preserving of fruits, home sewing, remodeling, millinery, help select food, help start hot lunches in rural schools and promote such things as cooperative laundries and markets.

IF HAIR IS TURNING GRAY, USE SAGE TEA

Here's Grandmother's Recipe to Darken and Beautify Faded Hair

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous. adv.

INJURIES WEAKEN COLLEGE GRID TEAM

Four Men Will Be Missing Out of Lineup in Stevens Point Game.

Old Man Jinx apparently has found a resting place at Lawrence college and he is working overtime shooting potions into Coach McChesney's champion seekers. Nearly half the team is troubled with something or other and it is probable that Lawrence will go into the game with

Stevens Point Normal at the Point Saturday afternoon with only about half its potential strength. Four regulars were missing from the scrimmage with the high school last night. Brum, tackle, is suffering with a severe cold and may not get into Saturday's game. McGlyn, McChesney's star in the line, has an infected hand and is definitely out of the next battle. Smith, center, was badly bruised in the Badger game and has not been out for practice this week. He will not start against Stevens Point and may not be ready for playing in another week. Johnson, who has been calling signals, is suffering with boils and will not play Saturday. McChesney is in a sweet mess which will require a good deal of strategy to get out of. The team didn't show a thing Wednesday night in the scrimmage with the high school, permitting the youthful players to tear through the line for a touchdown. Lawrence made but little impression on the high school forwards, however. The high school looked a good deal better than the college Wednesday night, indicating that West Green Bay, Appleton's opponent at Lawrence field Saturday afternoon will have to extend itself to the limit if it wishes to be in the running. On the other hand Stevens Point may be able to slip a win over the collegians unless the Blue and White men show about 100 per cent more pep than has been displayed so far this week.

DODGERS SMASH WAY TO VICTORY IN SECOND GAME

Robinson's Tactics in Hitting at Everything Wrecked Bagby.

INDIANS PLAY CRAFTY GAME

Cleveland Still Appears to Have Edge in Scramble for Confaloni.

(By L. R. Blanchard)
By United Press Licensed Wire
New York.—Brooklyn swept Yale football tactics to even the world series count against Cleveland yesterday. The Dodgers went out to smash, smash through the Cleveland line until they had the game sewed up. There was no particular imagination in the strategy, nothing especially startling about the way it was carried out.

It was just a well played ball game in which everything was done neatly but hard in the super style expected in a world series. Brooklyn didn't do much to Big Jim Bagby, still they managed to leave his mangled remains on the field of combat.

The Dodgers had a slim edge on both offensive and defensive in this second game of the series. It was so slim an edge however that the Indians can claim rightfully the breaks went to the other team.

The difference lay in the way the Dodgers combined their effort to manufacture runs. The Indians were about as efficient except in that matter of adding base hits together to give a result in runs scored.

In an offensive way, Brooklyn piled up ten "points"—every point being a base earned. Cleveland made nine such points. However Brooklyn combined three of these "points" in the first inning, three more in the third, being helped by Cleveland's error there and two more in the fifth. The best Cleveland did was to get away with two earned bases in one inning.

So far as pitching is concerned, the vaunted hurling power of the Brooklyn aggregation failed to show any exciting margin over that of the Indians. Butleigh Grimes twirled a mean wrist but Jim Bagby was almost on even terms. In fact the Indians' pitcher, except for yielding two hits when they

FANS WILL FLOCK TO OSHKOSH SUNDAY

Appleton Followers Sure That Brands Can Take Measure of Champions.

Announcement that the Brandt baseball team is to play in Oshkosh on Sunday was gleefully received by fans here who believe that the local team can defeat the state champions. Appleton's showing in the last dozen games has convinced Appleton devotees of the sport that there is not a better team in the state than the one owned by Brandt.

Oshkosh probably will strengthen its lineup to insure victory over the local team. Rivalry between the teams was keen all summer and the double defeat here on Labor day did not serve to make the teams like each other any better.

Arrangements are now being made to take a large number of fans to Oshkosh to witness the game. If weather conditions are favorable a record breaking attendance is expected.

hurl, had a cleaner record than his opponent.

Brooklyn batters in the first two games have shown impatience at the plate. Usually they crown the first or second pitched ball.

Against Bagby this proved a good attack and the Clevelanders were swept off his feet by the rattling attack of willow vs horsehide.

Meanwhile the Clevelanders have shown a cannyness at the plate that is apt to worry pitchers in succeeding games. They have waited the slabbman out and rapped at the good ones. That there was craft in this style of play was shown yesterday when Grimes began missing the plate in the last few innings.

Just how hard Grimes was worked by the Indians is shown in the fact he threw 127 times to the plate. Forty-eight, or more than a third, of those were balls. Forty-two out of the plate and the others were hit, seven of them to safe territory. Meanwhile, Bagby was tossing up 69 balls in six innings, putting eighteen across the plate as strikes, twenty-six going as balls. Twenty-five were rapped by the Dodgers, seven landing as hits.

Chle who succeeded Bagby, delivered 26 balls to the plate, shipping 11 strikes across, missing the platter with eight and letting the batters foul or hit seven more.

BROOKLYN EAGER TO SEE MAILS WORK

Dodgers' Cast-off Will Attract Thousands to Ebbett's Park Today.

(By Harold D. Jacobs)
New York.—The Brooklyn fans turned out today not only to see the third game of the world series, with their team battling on even terms, but to witness the final act of one of those old time "melodramas."

You know the plot, the young hero unable to get a start in the home town, is driven by the jibes of his neighbors to seek his fortune in the city. In a few years he makes a spectacular rise and when the eyes of the world are focused on him, he returns to the old town to show off to the home folks.

In this version, the hero is Walter Mails, the sensational southpaw pitcher of the Indians. A few years ago he was tried out by the Dodgers, found not guilty of being a big league player and was turned adrift. Cleveland found him in the Pacific coast league just before the close of the season, bought him and he startled the baseball world by turning in six straight victories. Now he is back in the old town, and according to the dope, was scheduled to show off today.

The desire of Brooklynites to see Mails in action was evidenced during yesterday's game. Several times when Jim Bagby faltered, Mails was sent out to the bull pen to warm up alongside George Uhle and each time great numbers of the fans shouted: "Mails, Mails."

KICKAPOO VALLEY IS RICH IN FRUIT

Orchard Started by Business Men Is Heavy With Apples and Grapes.

Prairie Du Chien—A lodestone drawing the motoring public of southwestern Wisconsin these autumn days is the thousand-acre orchard of Kickapoo Development company of this city. From 50 to 60 miles they are driving in to view the remarkable sight of trees loaded to the ground with fruit as perfect as that grown in the famous western orchards, and to buy and carry away the apples and grapes. The great orchard is just beginning to come into its own and this season yielded its first big crop. Hundreds of cases of cherries were shipped in the early summer and still greater quantities were sold right at the orchard to parties who motored in after the fruit. The apple season began with carlots of Wealthy apples and just now the Northwestern Greenings and Ma Kintoshes are being picked and shipped. Six barrels were picked from one Northwestern Greening tree. Ten tons of grapes have been harvested and sold from four acres.

Plant Wealthy

The whole thousand acres of apple and cherry trees and grape vineyards are being cared for just as the famous Western orchards. Varieties best suited to the climatic conditions and also to get on the market in advance of Western and New York apples have been selected. Two hundred acres of the Wealthy are growing. The trees are sprayed five times each summer. Pruning goes on through the whole winter, deep snows or no. The trees stretch in mile long rows on the slopes 450 feet above the Kickapoo river and are visible for several miles in all directions. A main motor road passes directly through the orchard and you may drive for nearly two miles between the rows of apple and cherry trees. Beside this road is the home of Secretary James Kegel of the company and here is where fruit for sale is offered, and dozens of automobiles line up at a time to buy and carry away baskets of apples and grapes.

Fine Apple Land

"There is no finer apple land anywhere than the ridges of the Kickapoo river." This is what the horticulturists of the University of Wisconsin decided 12 years ago in looking for sites for experimental orchards in the state. Eight of these were planned. One has now become the famous 1,000-acre cherry orchard of Sturgeon Bay. In the Kickapoo region all was timber and this had to be cut and the stumps blasted out before orcharding could be undertaken. In 1908 five acres of apples, one of cherries and one of grapes were planted. From that small beginning has grown the present orchard of 1,000 acres, all set

RECEIVE PROGRAM FOR NATIONAL C. OF C. MEET

The program for the sixth annual meeting of the National Association of Commercial Organization Secretaries at Chicago October 25, 26 and 27 has been received by Hugh G. Corbett, managing secretary of the chamber of commerce. He will probably attend at least part of the sessions. The gathering will take up almost every practical subject connected with commercial club work and will conduct a series of conferences. The first topic on the list will be of special interest to Appleton, as it deals with "The necessity for a Common-sense Plan in the Development of the City." The local chamber is giving this topic considerable study, and will have Dr. John Nolen, Cambridge, Mass. here soon to present it to the public. The convention is expected to review the progress of city planning and zoning.

Other important topics include health, state chamber of commerce organizations, extension of activities to the farm, field surveys, industrial financing, junior chamber of commerce, committees, secretarial success and others. Group meetings will also be conducted on special topics.

on virgin land which had first to be cleared. The proprietors incorporated as the Kickapoo Development company, comprise the personnel of 15 different companies, nearly all Milwaukee business men. It is conducted on a co-operative basis. J. A. Hays is president and manager. H. L. Marken is superintendent and James Kegel secretary.

Win Fair Prizes

The company took a large number of exhibits to the Wisconsin State fair last month and carried off first prize on practically everything shown in competition with six other trial orchards in the state.

The Kickapoo Development company in its orchard enterprise is going to help answer the question, why do Wisconsin people have to depend on Washington and Colorado for fine apples, when just as fine and finer can be grown with the same care right here in the home state?

ALL THAT GLITTERS IS NOT GOOD TO EAT

State Inspector of Weights and Measures Urging Checking
Up of Purchases.

"Food served in fancy packages is deceiving to the public," according to George Warner, chief inspector of weights and measures of the dairy and food commission of Wisconsin, who addressed the home economics department of The Woman's Club Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Warner spoke for George Weigle, dairy inspector, who was unable to be here.

The law requires the contents in weight to be registered on all packages, but the general public never reads the labels, said Mr. Warner. It is very often the case that an article sells for exorbitant prices in fancy boxes which are attractive. Mr. Warner cited an example of a fancy package of chipped beef which sold at the rate of $1.40 a pound, two and a half times as much as the selling price of the same article in bulk.

The contents of a package cannot be accurately gauged by the size of the container. Mr. Warner illustrated this point with two packages of lemon drops. The smaller package contained the greater number because they were packed in a more compact manner.

The weight of food, such as meat should be marked on the delivery slip or the package itself. The purchaser has no way of knowing what the meat weighed before it was trimmed. Housewives should all have scales and weigh the food purchased carefully.

The law requires that fruits should be packed in standard containers or plainly marked. This is necessary because of the difference in the capacity of containers, and the difference in the capacity of liquid and dry measures. Dry measure is fourteen per cent greater than liquid measure.

Milk bottles are carefully tested and sealed, so there is little difficulty experienced there, but the bottles are not always filled to capacity, concluded Mr. Warner.

THREE BUSHELS FROM ONE SMALL APPLE TREE

John C. Ryan has on exhibition in one of the display windows of his art store a branch about two feet long and not to exceed one-half inch in diameter which contains 38 well developed apples that are attached to it in groups of three. The tree is a young one and this year's crop is the second it has borne. Mr. Ryan estimates the yield at three bushels. He has found it necessary to place props under all the branches.

A Stubborn Cough
Loosens Right Up
This home-made remedy is a wonder for quick relief. Easily and cheaply made.

Here is a home-made syrup which millions of people have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs. It is cheap and simple, but very prompt in action. Under its healing, soothing influence, chest passages loosen, phlegm loosens, breathing becomes easier, tickling in throat stops and you get a good night's restful sleep. The usual throat and chest colds are conquered by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness, croup, throat tickle, bronchial asthma or winter coughs.

To make this splendid cough syrup, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup and shake thoroughly. If you prefer use clarified molasses, honey or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way you get a full pint—a family supply—of much better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract known the world over for its prompt healing effect upon the membranes.

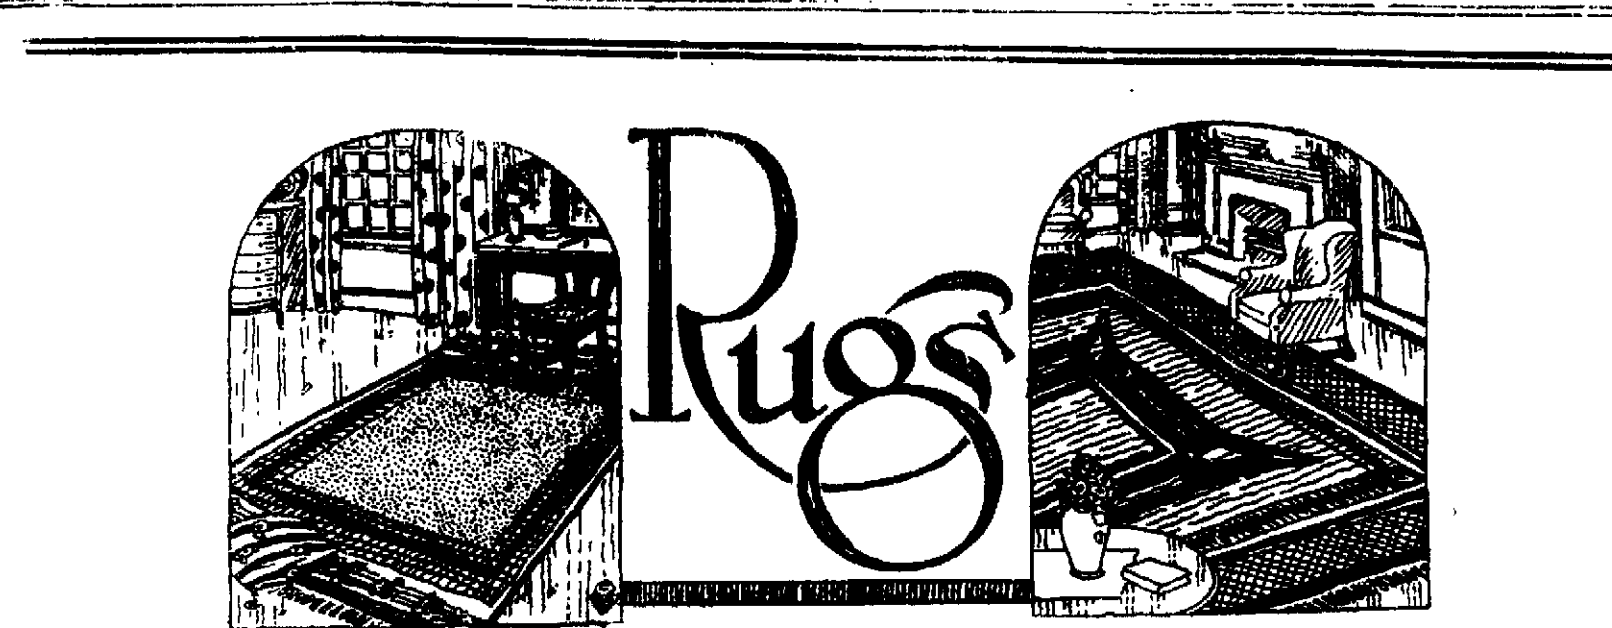

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "½ ounce of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work. He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers—Schlitz Bros. and Voigt's Drug Store have been appointed agents for Allen in this vicinity with the understanding that he will freely give the purchase money on the first two bottles to all who state they received no benefit.
